Ms. Hatch,

I find the first paragraph of the update to be extremely disingenuous. The casual reader could readily ascertain that the PRP Report is correct on their assessment to the dangers associated with the SSE & RIM while the ORD does not support that position. Your organization gives every impression that the ORD does not dispute the PRP assessments when the first six bullet points clearly outlines legitimate concerns. I believe that this update does a disservice to the very community the it is communicating with. For an agency that should be trying to prove their trustworthiness, this is counterproductive.
